

To whom it may concern,

السلام عليكم ورحمة الله - peace be upon you,

I serve as the outreach director for one of the largest Islamic centers in the United States, Dar Al-Hijrah Islamic Center and I have served on the board of the Interfaith Conference of Metropolitan Washington for many years. As a representative of the Muslim community to the media I know how essential the work of the Youth Adult Leadership Summit will be in creating opportunities for understanding.

I am writing this letter to give my full support this Summit proposal. I am familiar with the tremendous interfaith outreach work of Jack Gordon to support growth and development of understanding in Washington DC for many years.

From the video program he developed he has engaged the broad diversity of participating faith groups; the DC Young Adult Leadership Summit will develop stronger, sustainable cooperation and understanding between faith groups because of the relationships begun at this Summit. Young people will play a critical role in shaping our increasingly pluralistic country and world.

Washington DC is the capital city of the United States and a global city, a leadership summit could be a model of the best practices for cooperation to other cities around the world. I commit my community and my interfaith partners to help this Summit achieve its goal. Should you require any more input for me please feel free to contact me.

عام و انتم بخير
السلام عليكم ورحمة الله - peace be upon you,
