

Amman 10/3/2013

Dear Mr. Shihadeh,

I had the honor to attend YARA's "COEXIST" 2013 event and meet you as the founder and director of YARA. The event was well organized and guest speakers reflected different fields and backgrounds of the Jordanian Society.

The event raised the importance of social responsibility and promoted a culture of giving through the stories of guest speakers whose lives became more meaningful by actively serving the society. YARA was a great platform for those volunteers to inspire the audience by their creative and genuine yet professional initiatives.

The power of this event lies in the ability of YARA "COEXIST" to introduce faith and action as two inseparable concepts; where faith motivates citizens to serve their communities and action as reflection of this belief.

For me, I see the value of this event particularly among young professionals in a society that faith is the secret element that maintains social cohesiveness.

Thank you YARA for inviting us to this event and we look forward to attending next year's event.

Sincerely,

Dr. Zeena H. Tabbaa
President of AlHayat Tayybah Society
