1. Event Overview

1-1 Participation Background

 $The \ HWPL \ World \ Alliance \ of \ Religions' \ Peace \ (WARP) \ Office \ meeting is an innovative movement that has shown itself to be an effective tool to break down walls and create bridges between religions in all areas of the globe. Sharing the same aim with the World Interfaith Harmony Week (WIHW), HWPL WARP Office aims to bring understanding and harmony between religions to work together.$

We largely sympathize with the intent of the WIHW to achieve a culture of peace through mutual understanding and interfaith dialogue. Therefore, HWPL participated in this event, with a sincere duty and mission to inform the urgent need of religious dialogue, with scriptures as the basis, to the global community.

* What is the HWPL WARP Office?

The HWPL WARP Offices is one of the core peace initiatives of HWPL. It has been running for over an year, and is the practical movement to achieve the promise made at the 2014 World Alliance of Religions' Peace Summit where representatives of each religion promised to become one under the Creator.

Starting from the very first WARP Office, held on October 31, 2014, in Irvine, United States of America, currently there are 138 WARP Offices in 70 countries (as of March 3, 2016) actively uniting to practice the interfaith peace dialogue.

The HWPL WARP Office is a forum for dialogue centering on world peace in interfaith relations and scriptural texts. It aims to prevent the conflicts caused by religious misunderstandings and bring forth peace through gaining deeper understandings of the standards and teachings of each religion and the concept of peace spoken about in each Scripture.

1. Event Overview

1-2 Participation Summary

 Γ From the 4th to the 7th of February, 2016, there were 12 WARP Offices in 11 countries that participated in the WIHW Event throughout Asia, Africa, Oceania, the Americas, and Europe.

Through the 12 WARP Offices that participated in the WIHW Event, we realized that the unity was not a distant dream, seeing how the religious leaders made considerable amount of efforts to understand each other and accept the good teachings regardless of differences.

In light of the World Interfaith Harmony Week, special events were held in addition to the Dialogue of Scriptures. The religious leaders wrote the words "Harmony, Harmonize, Peace" in traditional Chinese calligraphy, a peace walk and a special "Peace Song" performance were held by children. Not only that, international media, women, and youth also participated in support of this practical solution to peace.

What was noteworthy was that, for the very first time, leaders from five different faiths (Buddhism, Taoism, Catholic, Protestantism, and the Orthodox Church) participated in the WARP Office meeting in China. All religious leaders from the participating 12 WARP Offices agreed on cooperating in the peace works with HWPL and to continue attending the WARP Offices, tearing down the walls against other religions.

Topic: Interfaith Role in Achieving Peace and Justice

Denis Régis (The Permanent Mission of Haiti to the United Nations / Permanent Representative)

"People tend to believe that conflicts begin where dialogue ceases. This is why it is appropriate to welcome the commitment of groups and organizations engaged in promoting interfaith harmony as a necessary and a universal aspiration; an effective tool that is able to defeat those who support the clash of civilizations."

Ravi Karkara (UN Women / Senior Advisor of Deputy Executive Director)

"We see very clearly that interfaith harmony is the nucleus of bringing together men and women from all directions and all ages across the world. While the focus is on the Sustainable Development Goal #16, I don't think we would attain any single goal without the support of the interfaith community."

Nkoloi Nkoloi (The Permanent Mission of Botswana to the United Nations / Deputy Permanent Representative)

"I come from a country that celebrates peace and that celebrates different religions. We work everyday to teach and to sow the seeds of peace. Peace is the only thing that we have in the world that we can all be proud of. I've never had anybody say they don't like peace. As a small peace loving nation, we want to continue to embrace other religions."

Lee Thomas (African Methodist Episcopal Church / Reverend)

"We, as religious leaders, need to stand up and speak out, because one thing that I discovered [is that] no matter what denomination, no matter what background, no matter what religion, we all have a common denominator, that we believe in a Creator, that we believe in peace, love, and harmony. We will continue to fight, we will continue to dialogue and we will continue to work with HWPL and Chairman Lee to make this possible, because I believe that all things are possible, if we believe."

Gurcharanjit Singh Lamba (PTC / News Anchor)

"So if the media, instead of actively taking sides and participating as a party, which will not be effective, but [instead] if it can act as a catalyst, that is the need. But how can that be done? I think, it's a small, small effort, which has been started by Mr. Lee and Ms. Kim. That is wonderful, that is really, unimaginable. And his zeal for this thing. He is not merely bringing the people together, but making them think about how these things can really be achieved."

Dileepkumar Thankappan (International Gurukula Community / President)

"We are making a change. We are making peace here. Because we have peace we have understood what we have to establish in the world. We are doing good work. We will continue with the small meetings or big events. Whatever we can do."

Mohammed Haidara (The Permanent Mission of Nigeria to the United Nations / Senior Counsellor)

"We in Nigeria recognize the work that HWPL is doing. HWPL is a true exemplification of existing mechanisms in the world that promote harmony and peaceful coexistence. What we see happening with the HWPL is the actual practical action, because the ability to bring people, the religious leaders across the world in this kind of movement, is second to none and I'd like to commend the HWPL for this. For us in Nigeria we never shy away from engaging in the interfaith discussion (like the meetings initiated by HWPL), because in Nigeria, those of you who know, we are accepting of all kinds backgrounds."

Hanifa D. Mezoui (United Nations Alliance of Civilization / Senior Advisor)

"In the very early stages of school [if] we would have a curriculum on religions, my faith would get bigger. If I know what is yours and you know what is mine, if we really have this kind of positive thinking and positive learning, then the world would definitely be a better place."

2-1 Event Result

Manzoor Hussain (Dunya International / Executive Editor)

"The responsibility of the media is to inform, educate and entertain. And this responsibility can never be fully kept without an accurate and unbiased reporting to the people. As you know people at large are the final authority to influence the government to act upon policies that are based upon social justice, that lead to peace and stability, both, economic and political. All my friends in the media must know that it's not an ordinary work we are doing. And it's not easy either. It is a task in which we have to work long hours, get paid less, risk our lives, and sometimes make the ultimate supreme sacrifice of laying down our lives for the cause of truthful and accurate reporting."

Topic: Understanding and Communication Between Religions

Question: What Influence Does the Peace in the World of Religion Have on the Peace in the World of Humanity? And What Is the Role of Religious Leaders?

Tariq Sarhan (Islam / Muslim Administration in Ukraine "Umma" director of education)

"Our role is to return people back to the peaceful God. All religions aspire to achieve peace. War is a fruit of personal choice and property of a person. We have to teach love. That way we can show love to God."

Oleh Drevniak (Orthodox / Ukrainian Autocephalous Orthodox Church Dean of Lviv)

"Of course religious leaders should become one, but first we have to ask ourselves, 'What have I done for peace?' We have to start with our own selves. We have to learn to love our brothers through reading the scriptures. And then peace will come to our hearts and to the whole world."

Vasyl Lutzyshyn (Orthodox / President of Lviv Theological Seminary of Ukrainian Autocephalous Orthodox Church)

"I think the hope for wanting peace and safety brings us together. In the scripture it says, 'be peaceful, do not be afraid'. If all religious leaders desire peace then discussing about peace will be natural. Religious leaders are the representatives of their respective religion and a leader of that organization. Therefore it will also be natural for the congregation to also discuss about peace."

Bohdan Voznyak (Orthodox / Ukrainian Autocephalous Orthodox Church priest)

"Peace is truth. This truth is what all religions should spread, respect and live in their lives. God is not a God of Power but a God of Truth. A person without truth will not be able to win a person with truth. So in any difficult or hard situation, if we become one, we will be able to overcome it."

Siva Fainerman (Judaism / Teiva Progressive Jewish Religious Organization)

"War is a result of human weakness and not having a peaceful discussion. We must do something so that there is no war. In our center, we study the scripture during our Program. Whenever I have the opportunity or the knowledge, I talk about the Quran."

Olga Yanko (Hinduism / International Society for Krishna Consciousness in Lviv)

"Not only should religious leaders talk about their religion, but they themselves should follow the rules of their religion and be role models. Not only to spread the message, but also to keep it. If you want to change the world, you have to start with yourself."

Volodymyr Nechyporenko (Hinduism / International Society for Krishna Consciousness in Lviv) "One of the conditions for peace to be achieved is to have the ability to listen to other people. We have to be thankful to our spiritual leaders. Due to them we are able to read (and understand) the scriptures. There are many religions in this world, but there is only One God. All people bow down to God. Like how the sun shines light for everyone, God also shares the same mercy to all people. God is Almighty and has no limits, and can't be really say is in only one religion. Instead all religions are under God."

Dakkuri Alan (Islam / Islam Culture Center of Mohammad Asad in Lviv)

"In order to teach about peace to other people, you first have to be here and discuss about peace together. We have to discuss that we can live peacefully. I came from Syria, a war zone. I wasn't directly involved in the war, but because of the war I cannot see my family. Therefore, war that arise due to religion must cease. And religious leaders should live peacefully and become closer to God. You, yourself have to live in peace in order to be able to teach peace."

Shishanov Vladimir (Protestantism / Evangelism Priest)

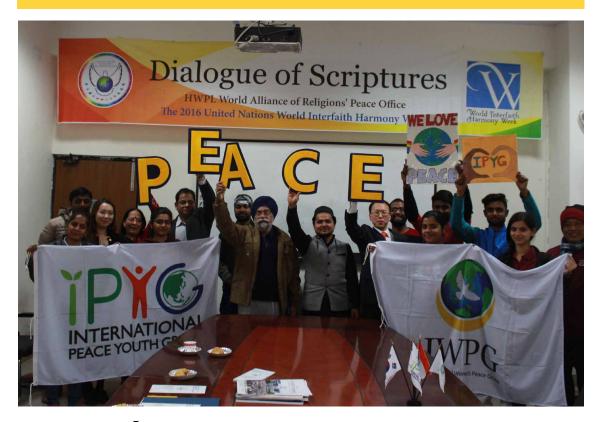

"Showing love to other people."

Topic: What God Wants From Mankind

Ghulam Rasool Dehlvi (Islam / All India Ulama and Mashaikh Board)

"Creator of man, sustain of man, God, and the nation of man has created man of life. These things can never be understood until we properly understand the scriptures, the message of prophets, Buddhist etc. that have been sent differently to us all. Just as how a machine works, we never understand without properly setting the drawing and design from the one who made it. Similarly, the sole purpose of man, the chief objective of life, creation of this world can't ever be understood without getting deeper into God's message in the scriptures."

Joseph Kim (HWPL / HWPL WARP Office Research Specialist)

"How can we recognize the will of an invisible God? There will no be differing views about the fact that we can know about God through the scripture. If there were no scriptures, it would be difficult to know God's Will. I believe we will be able to understand God's Will more through the meetings of scripture comparison. Inside of scriptures, there is a voice of God recorded very carefully."

Topic: The Beginning and End of Religious Scriptures

Question: Briefly Introduce about Your Scripture (Who/When/How/Purpose)

Long Zhang Ming (Orthodox / Priest of Hong Kong)

"The scriptures used in Protestantism, Catholic and the Orthodox Church are all the same, the Bible. But there are small differences in how they have translated. Prophecies are one of the expressions of thought. Therefore each has mixed some of its own doctrine in the translation process. The Orthodox Church practice their faith with the Bible as the standard. We also regard, however, the Sacred tradition as important as the Bible. The sacred traditions is a book that has been passed down in the Orthodox Church that have come from the 12 disciples to the believers. These books help understand the Bible more."

Niu Su Qing (Catholic / Jesus ShengXinTang Priest)

"The Bible of 700.000 letters that has been recorded by the Creator through moving the hearts of people, was recorded 3445 years ago. The people recorded as the Creator required. It wasn't recorded by one person, but by many people from different angles. The main purpose was to allow people to learn about the definitions."

Ya Yun (Buddhism / JingAnShi Master)

"The Buddhist scripture is the recording of what the Buddha said into words, which is connected like a line. In order for the line to not be broken, many scriptures were created. The purpose of this was to connect the thoughts of the Buddha and to deliver it easily so that the future generations can practice it easily too. The Buddhist scripture was recorded one year after Buddha entered into Nirvana by his followers in approximately BC550."

Cheng Run Lei (Taoism / HuShangTai QingGuan Taoist Leader)

"In Taoism there are three leaders. Also, in each era they entered into the world and recorded the Tao Te Ching approximately 2,500 years ago. The scriptures of Taoism is the recording of what was heard and seen of the law of King Daode Tianzun in writing. The purpose was to practice good and to return to nature and to human nature."

Wu Pei Ying (Christianity / Leader of a Youth organization)

"In Christianity there is one text, which is the Bible. The author is not man but the one we call God. But the ones who recorded (scribes) the Bible were the people chosen by God. The first one to record the Bible was Moses and the last being Apostle John. The first book in the Bible was recorded approximately 4,500years ago and the last book in 95 A.C. It was recorded through the Spirit of God and the purpose of it was to give life."

Question: How Will You Work to Improve the Harmony Between Religions?

Long Zhang Ming (Orthodox / Priest of Hong Kong)

"There is no problem of harmony between religions between the clergy. This is because the ideology of religion is similar. So we should also pass down this kind of philosophy to the congregation."

Niu Su Qing (Catholic / Jesus ShengXinTang Priest)

"One must have good will in their minds and hearts. I think interfaith dialogue and discussions are necessary. Each possess their own religion, and since each has their own truth, we must respect each other. Also, since love is a commonality throughout all religions, we have to coexist and harmonize in love."

2-1 Event Result

Ya Yun (Buddhism / JingAnShi Master)

"There are commonalities between religions, as well as differences, however, we should respect each other. There is no need for conflict. If there is a conflict, it is because they have not fully understood about the religion they believe in. Under the assumption that each of the religions understand each other while performing accordingly to the will of their religion, each religion has to be developed (improved)."

Cheng Run Lei (Taoism / HuShangTai QingGuan Taoist Leader)

"We have to solve the misunderstandings between the devotees (believers)."

Wu Pei Ying (Christianity / Leader of a Youth organization)

"Firstly, the walls in the hearts of the religious leaders should be teared down. Through interfaith dialogue, unity and harmony of religions have to be achieved. I am very thankful for the WARP Offices for helping to solve the misunderstandings between religions."

In celebration of the World Interfaith Harmony Week, there was a special "Peace Song" performance by 20 children from the orphanage, expressing their hopes for peace and harmony. Topic: What Makes Your Scripture Trustworthy?

Ashin Siha Nyana (Buddhism / Principal of Sitagu Missionary College of Thanlyin)

"Finally All the religious scriptures and God told to do good things and peace on earth. so we must obey and follow their footsteps. For the standard, we must base on the rules of our religion not on the humans. If we base on the humans, who are filled with angriness, greediness, for the standards, it will [be] like that we ignore the bless of God and like pushing our world to the unpeaceful conditions."

Young Ran Kim (Christianity / HWPL WARP Office Research Specialist)

"The Bible was recorded by approximately 35 people with different positions and background from different historical and geographical environments for a period of 1,600 years. But we can surely know that the author of the Bible is God and He Himself led all this process because the will and purpose of the entire Bible is exactly the same from Genesis to Revelation.

The obvious evidence that the Bible is God's Word is that it takes place and comes true as it is written (Deuteronomy 18:18-22). God has told people before it happens, so that when it does happen, people will believe it. This is the reason the Bible is written (John 14:29). When the entity of the prophecy appears, the prophecy becomes an evidence for that entity. God surely fulfills the prophecy in the Bible, even every single detail, when the appointed time comes (Num23:19, Is14:24, Is55:10-11, Mt24:34-35, Rv22:18-19)."

U Soe Thein (Islam / Islamic Religious Affairs Council Author)

"In the Quran there were facts concerning about the history. Quran revealed the true and authentic facts of history to be trustworthy. In the ancient prophets, for example Prophet Noah (Alaihissalam) and his followers. There came the story about the Noah's Ark. The remains of the Ark could be seen as fossil up in the mountains of Mt. Ararath in Turkey. (The site of the Ark is situated 300 kilometers in the eastern part of Armenian border).

Another example of the trustworthy of the scripture of Islam is the historical site in Amman (Jordan), a cave where the Seven young men had taken shelter from the cruel King (Quran 18:9-22). Those seven young men kept away from the cruel King to value their respective beliefs, and and at last they were dead in the cave. Still their bones could be found in the cave."

Brajesh Verma (Hinduism / Hindi Literary Society Author)

"One can receive inspiration, an ideal and to visualize the vast human life by practicing the Dharma. It is better to practice it, which leads to the way for a good conduct, moral character and better human behavior than to have the knowledge of Dharma. The experiences of Dharma is the last resource to know the truth. The practice of the Dharma introduces the important values of complete human life.

Hinduism is a dynamic religion which has no end, but continues with traditional. Hinduism allows all to think freely and to practice it. Hence, with all the above positive human ideals and harmony in life, which proves the Hindu holy scriptures, such as Vade, Upanishad, Darshan and Bhagavad Gita are very trustworthy."

Topic: What Is the Origin of Evil in Your Scripture?

Simon Pierre Rwaramba (Evangelical Pentecostal Christians / Pastor)

"In the Old Testament Satan sinned when his pride made fall from perfection (Ezekiel 28:15–17). When he sinned, he was cast out from Heaven (Isaiah 14:12). This must have been after day 6 of creation week because God pronounced everything very good (Genesis 1:31).

In the New Testament, other names reveal more about Satan's current nature. Devil (diabolos) means 'false accuser, Satan, slanderer' in Greek. Satan is called a dragon in Revelation 12:9 20:2, as well as the "evil one" in several places. Revelation 12:9 calls him "that ancient serpent" or "serpent of old," and Matthew 4:3 calls him the "tempter." Other names for Satan include Abaddon (destruction), Apollyon (destroyer, Revelation 9:11), Beelzebub or Beelzebul (Matthew 12:27) and Belial (2 Corinthians 6:15)."

Sheikh Ibrahim Kayitare (Sunni Islam / Mufti)

"In Islam evil is from a person, which means a person is a source of evil, who planned it and implement the evil. But [God] didn't create human for doing bad things, but God created human beings to live in peace. Which means the purpose or mission of human beings on earth was to make peace and develop the world so that the world may be sweet for everyone.

As we have seen that a person is source of evil, but it depends on the person's character. Human beings are created differently from any other creature, which mean he is different from animals or angels and all environments even those invisible things. In the Quran we see that all creature has been created in order to serve God, but only two creatures that we have seen are the source of evil; human beings and the devil. But human beings were created with freedom of choosing to do good or evil. Either you can decide to do adultery, killing or to give to the poor etc. Which means the freedom that God gave him [was] to choose whether to do either good or evil and then God will ask us why we chose it."

Sheikh Bizimana Abdallah (Shia Islam / Imam)

"According to the Holy Quran, Prophet and Imam Sayings, an Evil refers to anything which is against Allah's command. And whatever is against Allah's command is prohibited.

The origin of evil is from Satan due to is the first being who committed evil and attempted to Adam (Peace be upon him) and Eve while they were leaving in the heaven without any problem."

Joy Cho (HWPL / HWPL WARP Office Research Specialist)

"Now Satan, that is the fundamental of evil, appeared because of his greed and arrogance. In humankind, Satan made Adam and Eve eat the fruit of the knowledge of good and evil. Why did he do that? Because he wanted to take this world for himself. In that, arrogance is editing the Word of God written in the scripture (I Corinthians 4:6). The pure truth of God's Word was to not eat the fruit, but the Satan put his thought and them eat it. That is arrogance."

Topic: Understanding and Communication Between Religions

Question: Do You Think Peace in the Religious World Will Influence the Peace in the Whole World?

Mohan Ranjan Balendran (Hinduism / Ganesha temple Chief Priest)

"In Hinduism, we have something called ahimsa, which means that you act in a non-violent way. This moral principle in Hinduism has the aim to convey that not to kill other lives and creatures. Dharma in Hinduism signifies our act, the way of right living. In our religion and also in others religion we talk about how to not harm another life, therefore an ahimsa-path is the greatest to achieve peace."

Kashif Virk (Islam / Stockholm Ahmadiyya Imam)

"According to the Quran, it says Allah is a God of peace and many people come back into light from darkness. It is really leading all the people into a good path. This elemental principle is Islam principle. Muhammad said only forgiving and treating other people with kindness is the way."

Tapas das (Krishna / ISKCON Stockholm Priest)

"The question is whether in our scriptures it is mentioned when and how a peaceful nation will come. And the answer is, with modification, yes. And the modification is twofold: first of all the scripture does not use the word "nation", but rather more or less the "whole world". Secondly, it is not mentioned that it will happen at a certain exact time, rather it will happen as a gradual development with different variety of strength in different places in the world.

In the Bhagavad-gita (5.29) one can find the basic understanding for peace, often called the peace formula: "One who knows that the Supreme Lord is the controller and protector, the enjoyer and the friend of all living beings, can attain peace"."

Question: Does Your Scripture Clearly Explain Who the Author of Your Scripture Is?

Colin Butler (Church of Scientology of Melbourne / Director of Special Affairs)

"No exact scripture like other religion. Every aspect of Scientology was covered by R Hubbard that was applicable to so many situations. Scientology, fundamental, can coexist with any religion and any philosophy, because truth is truth."

Dya Singh (Sikhism / Sikh Youth Australia Consultant)

"Sikh scriptures were formulated by the masters themselves. Scriptures are not called scriptures anymore. The Name of the scripture is Guru Granth Sahib. 80 percent of the scriptures are poem and music. Revelation of the scriptures came through music."

Esther Shin (Protestantism / Jesus Loving Church Doctor of Theology)

"Bible is composed of two parts – The Old Testament and the New Testament. Therefore the Bible is a book of Testament. Testament means covenant, i.e. a promise. Bible is God's word, which is a book of promise. The Old Testament is 39 books and the New Testament is 27 books, therefore there are 66 books. 66 books, 1189 chapters, 31,173 verses are all talking about two promises."

Topic: The Last Days

Question: Does Your Scripture Promise About a Savior at the Last Day? If so, How Can We Recognize Him/Her?

Ebrahim Nonoo (Judaism / Jewish Community member)

"Moshiach is not identified by his ability to perform earth shattering miracles. The following are the criteria for identifying the Moshiach, as written by Maimonides:- If we see a Jewish leader who (a) toils in the study of Torah and is meticulous about the observance of the mitzvot. (b) influences the Jews to follow the ways of the Torah and (c) wages the "battles of G – D" such a person is presumed Moshiac. If the person then rebuilds the holy temple in Jerusalem, then we are certain it is him."

Zachariah Thomas (Christianity / Mar Thoma Church Father)

In celebration of the World Interfaith Harmony Week, the meeting started with an opening performance by the youth members, depicting the effects of religious conflicts. A performance choreographed by the youths themselves, it sent an earnest message for their desire for peace, and the participants who watched the performance firmly agreed that religious peace must be achieved.

The participants, in one voice, agreed that in order to solve religious conflicts, there have to be in-depth discussions amongst religions, and the discussions should be based on the scriptures that record the true will of God, instead of their own thoughts and opinions.

Topic: A Discussion of the Overview of the Scripture from Beginning to End

Question: With What Event Does Your Religious Scripture Begin?

Bhai Sahib Satpal Singh Khalsa (Sikhism / Ambassador of Sikh Dharma)

"Guru Nanak was the founder of Sikhism about 547 years ago. For 3 days when he went to the river to take his daily bath he did not come out of the river. Everybody thought he drowned but after 3 days he came out of the river and did not speak. The next day he spoke of what he has heard and said there is no Hinduism and no Islam. He then gave the first prayer of the Sikhs. He said that there is 1 God, no caste, and that everyone is equal."

Muhammad Shaheed Aadam (Islam / Educator at SML Education)

"Our religious scripture was revealed to the prophet Mohammad when he was meditating in a cave when he would seek solitude. He then heard the voice of the angel Gabriel who spoke to his heart who told him to, "Read." But the prophet said he cannot read but the angel told him to read and it was impressed upon his heart."

Mohammed Zafarullah (Islam / Baitul Hameed Mosque)

"The Holy Scripture of Islam is the Qur'an in the name of Allah. Our Scripture is connected to Allah and once you realize that then you achieve peace."

Keshav Das (Hinduism / Priest of Irvine Mandir)

"The Hindu Scripture talks about knowing the knowledge of God. It has been written by saints during their meditation. According to our scriptures, or the Vedas, this started when there was a dissolution of the universe. In the Vedas there are a lot of distinct teachings about how to live in harmony with people and how to live your daily life. Hindu is not a religion it's more a way of life and philosophy. There is no date when the Vedas started it was revealed by God verbally."

Agatha Ogochukwu Chikelue (Catholicism / Reverend of Archdiocese of Abuja)

"My religion does not just begin with scripture and end with scripture. The church existed before 500 years before the Bible was compiled and was striving. In the Catholic religion we use the scriptures but also the traditions of the church. It begins with love, ends with love, it is all about love, and that is what Catholicism is all about. It is also about compassion, forgiveness, and justice. For God so loved the world that He sent his one and only son so for those who believe will have eternal life."

Ram Krishan Singh Khalsa (Sikhism / Head of Sikh Dharma Argentina)

"Guru Nanak was the founder of Sikhism as one who was chosen by God to initiate this philosophy of life. He wanted to express the spirit of unity and communion within all people so we can live together as one. Our scripture has the characteristic of being the expression of songs and praise not only for guru Sikhs but of holy ones and great people from other religions. It is to create a body of worship towards God."

David William Limo Pajar (Anglican / Bishop of the Episcopal Church of El Salvador)

"The Bible begins with the Creator with the beauty of diversity and mankind as the administrator of it as it says in Gen 1:31. God saw all that He created and said that it was good."

De Hong (Buddhism / Founder of The Engaged Buddhist Alliance)

"The end of the Buddhist scripture is dealt with the passing of the Buddha and him entering the Nirvana. In summary he said to work on your own salvation. He said all the physical things in the world are not permanent but that they are always changing."

Hum Dac Bui (Cao Dai / Head of Internal Affairs of Cao Dai International)

"Cao Dai is about the oneness of religion. In the 1920s, God revealed the teachings of Cao Dai soon after World War I but unfortunately Vietnam fell into communism so the scriptures were not able to be received from God. But we can receive a "word-less" scripture from God which is love. Love will make us happy and bring us closer to God. That is when we can receive the scripture of God within our hearts. We just need to love each other to have the key to God."

Susanna Furios (Scientology / Director of Public Relations of the Church of Scientology of Los Angeles)

"Scientology is the study of knowledge and it is further defined as the study of the relationship to one's self and other life. This religion was founded by Ron Hubbard in 1911. Scientology is a study of life and how you apply it so there is no beginning or end."

Falokun Fasegun (Ifa / Priest of Ile Orunmila Afedefeyo)

"In our religion, we have 256 odus or scriptures so it's hard to explain such deepness within Ifa. There are 1680 verses in each scripture. We believe that the scriptures have a feminine energy so it gives birth to everyone we believe in everyone's lives. There is a principle called "Alashee Wada" which is the spirit that brings unity and peace. One of the symbols in Ifa is the circle so there is no end in Ifa."

Ray Moten (Christianity / Pastor of Joseph of Jacob United Church of God in Christ)

"In the beginning, it says that God created light and that's where Christianity begins. But when it comes to the end it says that there will be a creation of a new heaven and new earth, the home of righteousness, where peace will be achieved there long after."

2-1 Event Result

Juan Carlos Urquhart de Barros (Anglican / Archbishop of the Old Episcopal Church)

"The Bible ends with Revelation. But throughout the Bible we can see that God is love. The prophets who wrote the Bible can be seen as like antennas where they capture the heart and will of God. We also can say that each writer who wrote the Bible did it in such a way as a poet. In Revelation primarily, it is full of symbols and images that are difficult to be able to translate. So we need to understand what it is that God is trying to tell us. Revelation is centered around Christ who resurrected. Revelation is a battle between the church of God and the demons."

Question: What is the common thread that connects all the messengers in your religious Scripture together?

Bhai Sahib Satpal Singh Khalsa (Sikhism / Ambassador of Sikh Dharma)

"The Sikh religion had 10 gurus. Guru means one who is a remover of darkness. It took 239 years from 1409 to 1608 for the compilation of the Guru Granth Sahib, which is the holy scripture of Sikhism. We consider him a living guru. We put the holy scripture to bed at night and in the morning we read it with the opening prayer. There were also 36 other leaders from different religions also included in the Guru Granth Sahib."

Waqas Syed (Islam / Deputy Secretary General of the Islamic Circle of North America)

"The beginning of God is before the existence and creation of everything. This is the God of Muslims, Christians, all the other religions. We believe religion started with the creation of mankind. There were 240 prophets in history and the message has been the same, to worship the one true God. We believe the series of all the messengers conclude with the prophet Mohammad. The conclusion of creation is the day of judgment."

Yukinori Yokoyama (Buddhism / Reverend of Long Beach Buddhist Church)

"There are all different types of Buddhist scriptures so I will only mention my tradition of Zen Buddhism. We have this idea that "God" is beyond our conceptualization of life. There are different teachings in Zen Buddhism that go past the concept of black and white and beyond our understanding."

Hari Maru (Hinduism / Deacon of Shri Swaminarayan Mandir Chino Hills)

"Religion is the highest gift from God to mankind. Most important thing is that with creation we do not know when it was created. So when the Creator made the creation, this universe is one family. So we cannot understand God through intellectual ability or through logic. We have to first be peaceful to each other but not only just to humans but also to the animals. All creation is our friend."

This is a very good event for peace and for the harmony. Personally I really like this program, because the messages that people are delivering here is the present in me. We all should work together. I believe in work with HWPL we can promote peace and harmony in the world especially through interfaith dialogue. This gathering should be on a regular basis. Not something once in a year, but every two months, every three months. It should be often.

2nd Malaysia Kuching WARP Office

Today was very good because we get to understand each other better and we are reminded of the importance of the peace movements that is actually promoting peace which the world needs very much right now. We need to practice and promote interfaith harmony because there is lots of misunderstandings among the faiths. If we understand each other better than everything will be better.

It was a lovely event and I thoroughly enjoyed sharing the teachings of my own religion, Scientology. I believe these Interfaith Dialogues are important ways for us to break barriers and understand each other, ultimately fulfill peace.

Colin Butler

(Church of Scientology of Melbourne / Director of Special Affairs)

Thank you for inviting us to this event. It was a pleasure for us to participate. HWPL is making a sincere effort towards global wellbeing amongst humans so it is only right that one at least participates. It is our dharma/duty to do so.

I've attended previous WARP Offices before but it seemed like all the leaders are now getting comfortable in meeting and wanting to come. The way I get to engage with other religious leaders at the WARP Offices is different than when I meet with other leaders outside in other places.

Yukinori Yokoyama

(Reverend of Long Beach Buddhist Church / President)

It was an excellent, wonderful, and well organized program tonight by HWPL. The young people are the key. It was a miracle seeing so many young people tonight wanting to work for peace. I would like to continue working with HWPL.

My experience with HWPL was incredible. Seeing all these different religious leaders come together to have dialogue was amazing to see. I would absolutely love to continue working with HWPL.

(Church of Scientology of Los Angeles / Director of Public Relations)

66

This is my first time being here but I felt a very good feeling being here. I like the goal of HWPL. It's not often you see organizations like HWPL that try to unite people because other people and places try to divide. My hope is that young people will have a proper understanding about religion and that is when peace can be achieved.

(Deacon of Shri Swaminarayan Mandir Chino Hills / President)

This time I really started thinking about the young people. It really made me think about all the damage religion does when we don't understand each other.

It was excellent today. HWPL is doing such a wonderful thing working to bring peace. I enjoyed when Instructor Ted said God is one and how the heavens provide the light, air, and rain. It was an excellent speech. I would like to do anything I can help HWPL in the future.

Bahrain's religious figures discuss 'end of the world'

07-Feb-2016

Religious figures representing various communities and religions of Bahrain came together yesterday to discuss the "end of times" as taught in various scriptures.

They discussed how the religions perceived the concept of "end of times." The conference was jointly organised by Heavenly Culture, World Peace, Restoration of Light (HWPL) and Bahrain Association for Religious Coexistence and Tolerance on Bahrain Association for Religious Coexistence and Tolerance premises in Ras Rumman.

"The first week of February was unanimously adopted as World Interfaith Harmony Week by the UN on October 20, 2010. In this week, all groups from different faiths participate in worldwide peace event, which is held from every corner of world to enhance mutual understanding, harmony and cooperation," HWPL said in a statement yesterday.

"In Bahrain, religious leaders participated in WARP Office at Bahrain Association for Religious Coexistence & Tolerance office. They had a time to discuss and share their perspectives under the topic of "The end of the age" based on their religious scripture to find an answer for peace in religion," the statement added.

"The Jewish religion does not necessarily give any specific time for the end of the world. However, there are references to the end of times in the Jewish scriptures," said Ebrahim Nonoo, who represented Bahrain's Jewish community at the conference.

"Everyone should understand each other's religion in order to bring harmony," he said, adding, "It is written in the Jewish scriptures that there will come a time when everyone will be united to follow the God in one religion."

"The religions have the same motives, such as to bring people together. It is when people do not understand their religion, that they begin to fight," opined Chairman of Bahrain Association for Religious Coexistence and Tolerance Yousif Buzaboon.

Rev Dr. T.T. Zachariah talked about Christianity's teachings about the end of times. "Bible talks about the end of age in many passages in the old testament and new testament. In the Bible, Jesus spoke about his second coming and the end of the age. In Mark 13:24-27, it says there will be great suffering before the end of age," he said. "Only father knows about the time of second coming of Jesus. So we must be ready at all times," he added.

February 09, 2016

MANAMA - The Heavenly Culture, World Peace, Restoration of Light (HWPL) has organised several events across the world to mark the World Interfaith Harmony Week ending on Sunday.

According to a press statement, interfaith discourses were held simultaneously in Jordan and Bahrain, where various religious leaders compared each other's scriptures for promotion of peace in the region.

'In Jordan, Catholic and Islamic religious leaders tried to find a way for keeping prophesies written in each scripture in order to leave peace as an inheritance for future generations. It was notable that all religious leaders signed peace agreement for cessation of war and world peace showing their role of each religion in establishing world peace,' it said.

In Bahrain, the religious leaders of Hinduism, Judaism, Orthodox and Sikhism shared their 'perspectives to find an answer for peace in religion'.

The United Nations in 2010 adopted the first week of February as World Interfaith Harmony Week. HWPL holds peace dialogue of World Alliance of Religions' Peace (WARP) Office concurrently in 12 countries, including some in the Middle East and Oceania.

Heavenly Culture, World Peace, Restoration of Light aims to achieve peace by establishing the HWPL WARP Offices in every country this year, thus bringing forth understanding and harmony between all the participating religious leaders and people of faith from diverse religions through the Dialogue of Scriptures.

Participating the HWPL WARP Offices in each region to celebrate the World Interfaith Harmony Week has become a focal point in the work of peace. The HWPL WARP Office Dialogue of Scriptures, a meeting aimed at returning to the basic teachings of religion through religious scripture comparison, is a revolutionary interfaith peace activity to achieve the underlying mutual understanding and harmony between all religions.
