In my opinion, two gorgeous elements define this initiative: on one hand, a firm belief in power of Art to transform people and society; on the other hand, to demonstrate how near and alike people are, although unknown.

For several years I have enjoyed the concerts organized by Arco Forum, either as spectator or as choral conductor with my choir in 2016, hand in hand with Jewish and Muslim artists. It is a deeply exciting experience to discover, respect and admire other kind of music and culture in these events, in the idea that only what you ignore can be threatening to you.

Additionally, I would like to highlight a fantastic artistic quality of performers, variety of musical proposals and meticulous event organization.
