March 8, 2016

(Harrisburg, PA) - The Muslim Community of Central Pennsylvania is pleased to invite members of all faiths to join us for an interfaith symposium, "United We Stand Against Hate & Bigotry."

Please join us at the Crowne Plaza Hotel, 23 S. 2nd Street in Harrisburg, PA on Sunday, March 6, 2016 at 2pm. This discussion, led by world-renowned scholar on Religious Studies, Dr. Yasir Qadhi seeks to create a better understanding of current events with respect to religious intolerance and extremism around the world. Dr. Qadhi has been invited to address the impact of Islamophobia and hate crimes on the lives of American-Muslims and share how non-Muslims can become our allies.

The aim of this symposium is to reaffirm the Muslim Community's commitment to building stronger relationships within our community and seeks to foster a greater understanding of our faith and the values we live by.

This event is FREE for non-Muslims. Details can be found on the attached flyer. Light refreshments will be served. Please RSVP by February 29th
