Abdou Gado Mariama, occupying the post of Deputy General Secretary of Young of Integrity Association, is an engaged and determined woman. In regard of her role in our organization, but also her bright ideas that always come from charity and donations to needy population. Her sociability is undeniable, that's why she is more interested by associations to bring her additional help to the most disadvantaged social classes. Her unlimited devotion and capacity has always been proved in activities of general interest.

To have an engaged and fighting woman as her in our association is a privilege. Among all her occupations, she never omitted to have beautiful ideas of kindness. She exactly knows from where, how and when we should intervene to help needy persons.

I vouch for about her engagement, her immense patriotic values that she always defend with soul and body, days and nights. I mostly admire her work, in regard of her social place of woman in a society where woman is not much privileged. About her charisma, she has a developed vision based on noble ideas for a responsible participation of young girls in our social development.
