Testimonial

I had the opportunity to attend the Three Cultures Concert organized in Madrid last month by Arco Forum / Casa Turca and it seemed an extremely enriching musical and cultural initiative. The level of the musicians and the framework in a church in the center of Madrid made the evening very special but beyond that I was surprised by the ability to convene under one roof of believers from three different religions with a diversity of backgrounds. (From China to the United States, through Turkey, England and Spain) and even non-believers but attracted by what unites us: the appreciation of good music and the ability to respect others.
