Dear Maureen

World Interfaith Harmony Week

It was a pleasure recently to host Interfaith Scotland and the many diverse faith communities in Garnethill Synagogue as part of World Interfaith Harmony Week.

The event theme 'tackling hate together' is such an important theme and really resonated with all of us at the Archives Centre and in the Synagogue, as we have faced attacks against our community in diverse places around the world.

It was so encouraging for all of us to see how the diverse faiths present wanted to work together to tackle the problems of hate and discrimination. We have always welcomed working with Interfaith Scotland and we look forward to continuing to work with your organisation to engage the faith communities in this important work.

World Interfaith Harmony Week is a great opportunity to bring people together and we commend Interfaith Scotland for all the work they do bringing faith communities together for dialogue, engagement and to work for the common good of our country.

Yours sincerely

Harvey Kaplan
Director SJAC
