

World Interfaith Harmony Week

A UN-Recognized Global Movement for Goodwill

An annual observance held during the first week of February, proposed by H.M. King Abdullah II of Jordan and unanimously adopted by the UN General Assembly on October 20, 2010.

The Guiding Principle: A Unifying Call to Action

Rooted in Shared Commandment

Love of God and
Love of the Neighbour

Based on the theological common ground between Islam, Christianity, and Judaism, as articulated in the A Common Word initiative.

Expanded for Universal Inclusion

Love of the Good and Love of the
Neighbour

An inclusive extension that welcomes people of all faiths, beliefs, and those with no religious affiliation to join in a shared ethical movement.

WIHW invites everyone, excludes no one, and is purely voluntary.

A Deliberate Journey from Dialogue to Global Observance

2005

The Amman Message

Drafted to clarify the true nature of Islam for a global audience and build consensus among Muslims. Quoted insight: "Without such clarification, combating terrorism would be significantly more difficult." - George Yeo, then Foreign Minister of Singapore.

2007

A Common Word Initiative

A landmark document authored by Prince Ghazi bin Muhammad highlighting the shared dual commandments—Love of God and Love of the Neighbour—as the foundation for Muslim-Christian dialogue.

2010

UN Resolution A/65/PV.34

H.M. King Abdullah II proposed the Week at the UNGA, expanding the scope to include all people. Prince Ghazi presented the proposal, which was adopted unanimously, proclaiming the first week of February as World Interfaith Harmony Week.

The Strategic Objectives: Turning Goodwill into Collective Momentum

In the words of the resolution's author, Prince Ghazi bin Muhammad, the objectives are:

Unite & Coordinate

To bring together the efforts of all interfaith groups under one focused theme annually, increasing their collective impact and eliminating redundancy.

Harness Infrastructure

To utilize the collective might of the world's places of worship—the second-largest global infrastructure—“inserting the right “software” into the world's religious “hardware” for peace.”

Empower the Silent Majority

To permanently and regularly encourage preachers and teachers to declare themselves for peace and harmony, providing a ready-made vehicle for them to commit on the record annually.

Your Path to Participation: A Four-Step Guide

WIHW is a decentralized, grassroots initiative. Success depends on you. First-time organizers are encouraged to start simple—a breakfast, a bazaar—and build from there.

Harmony is Proclaimed from Cities to Provinces Worldwide

Canada

Proclamations issued in provinces like Alberta & British Columbia and major cities including Toronto, Vancouver, Calgary, and Halifax.

United States

Official recognition in diverse communities such as Tucson, Arizona and Westchester County, New York.

Philippines

Regional support demonstrated in proclamations from Davao and Mindanao.

Africa

Municipal endorsements from capital cities like Bangui (Central African Republic) and Banjul (Gambia).

Official proclamations increase public awareness, encourage local participation, and provide legitimacy to grassroots events.

A Library of Resources to Empower Your Initiative

Official Branding

Downloadable Logos (banner, square) and a comprehensive Style Guide (PDF) to ensure visual consistency.

Guides & Toolkits

Practical guides on starting service projects (WorldFaith.org), tool cards in English & Spanish (URI.org), and a collection of 200 quotes on interfaith dialogue (Scarboro Missions).

Proclamation Support

A “Power of Proclamations” video featuring the Mayor of Toronto explains the process and importance of securing official civic recognition.

Publications & Articles

Access historical summaries (WIHW 2011, 2012), key speeches (“A Common Word in Deed”), and articles addressing challenges like Islamophobia.

The resource library is a living collection. Participants are invited to contribute their own materials via the “Submit Your Resource” feature.

Why Your Support Matters: Moving from Tolerance to Harmony

Tolerance

Passive: "I won't interfere with you."

Harmony

Active: "I will actively work with you."

Harmony Needs Public Witness

When people of goodwill speak publicly, they remind communities that respect and compassion are the foundation of stable societies.

Your Voice Encourages Others

A public letter or event can inspire someone who hesitates to take action, showing them they are not alone.

Support Must Be Visible

WIHW unifies scattered efforts, demonstrating the scale, diversity, and credibility of the global movement for goodwill.

History Is Being Written. Your Voice Belongs Here.

The Letters of Support and Event Report archives become a historical record of who stood for harmony when it mattered. Years from now, this record will show which individuals, communities, and institutions spoke up for unity.

“ A Letter of Support is a declaration that we are moving beyond surface-level coexistence, and toward real human solidarity. ”

You do not need perfect wording. You only need sincerity. Submit a Letter of Support or register an event to add your voice to the growing international community working toward a world of harmony and goodwill.
